

Shell-Shocked Lad Suicides For Crime He Did Not Commit

By HAL BOYLE
Aboard Navy Transport, Western Pacific (Delayed), (AP)—Sailors like to spin yarns and trade experiences in the long hours aboard ship between dusk and bunktime. So do correspondents.

And both travel in strange lands and see many strange events.
When you get them together they really fan the breeze. It was at one of these sessions that a naval officer told the story of the soldier who died for a crime he never committed.
Our transport rocked softly and the sea was uneasy and fretful as a weary child. From the wardroom you could step a few paces and look across to the lights of Japan, a country darkened by more than night.

On Pacific Isle
"It happened on one of those Pacific islands we took as hopping stones months ago," began the naval officer. "We had had the place cleaned out for some days and there were no more Japs around. No live ones at least. The army had set up a field hospital near the shore.

"In the hospital was a young nurse who had fallen in love with a young army officer. She managed to slip out for a few hours one night and they were walking along the beach—probably talking over their plans after the war.

"It wasn't a bad place to be. You know those islands are hotter than hell in daytime, but on good nights you get a breeze from the sea. And I guess even hell would look nice if you were walking through it by moonlight with your best girl.

"They came to a secluded stretch of sand away from any camp, and they sat down together on the beach and looked out at the sea."

Death On Beach

The couple thought they were alone. But envious eyes watched them from a clump of darkness behind them. Then hands reached out and struck from the darkness and the army officer was dead and still.

"You can imagine what happened to the girl," the naval officer continued. "Then she was killed, too. And both bodies were buried in the sand. But their graves had been scooped hurriedly and were too shallow. In the morning the tide had washed away the sand and left the army officer's hand sticking out. Someone saw it. Both bodies were soon recovered.

"The murders created a sensation all over the island. Double killings like that aren't exactly an everyday feature of army life. For days nobody talked much of anything else.

"But the big question remained unsolved. Who had done it?"

Finally a shell-shocked soldier in one of the hospital wards told one of the nurses he had done it.

Innocent Victim

"I did it," he cried in remorse over and over again. "I killed them. I'll have to pay in some way for killing them."

"I did it," he kept repeating. "I will have to pay in some way."

And pay he did.

"One morning they found him strangled," said the naval officer. "During the night he had taken his web belt and hanged himself—hanged himself to pay for a crime of which everyone was certain he was innocent."

HARRY BENDER STATIONED ON KYUSHU ISLAND

Pfc. Harry E. Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bender, Carlisle street, has arrived at Kanoya, on Kyushu island, one of the three islands of the Japanese mainland, according to a letter from him by his parents this morning.

Young Bender, 21 years of age, has been in service almost three years, 21 months of which he spent in the Pacific theatre of operations.

His interesting letter follows:

"Well since censorship is over I can answer any question you ask. I have so much to tell you that I hardly know where to start. To begin with I am now on Japan, yes the outfit moved up the other day by plane, that is how I got here so fast. All our heavy equipment went by boat a few days sooner. The reason they wanted us to go by plane is to put on a good show for the Japs. And we sure did. I never saw so many aircraft and boats. I never dreamed we had so much.

Is At Kanoya

"Now to tell you my location. I am on Kyushu, the largest southern island of Japan, you know has three main islands, and this is one of them. The place I am at on Kyushu is called Kanoya, its the southern most airfield the Japs had, it is where all the Jap suicide planes left from, and a big naval base. The town of Kanoya is very

FIND BODY OF MAN BELIEVED TO BE DELPHEY

The badly decomposed body of a gray-haired man, believed to be that of Charles Phylander Delphey, who has been missing from his Menallen township home for 10 days, was found at noon today along Possum creek, two miles from Biglerville.

The body was found by Ralph T. Sandoe, Biglerville, who was fishing along the creek. He called state police by telephone from the residence of Theodore Weaver, along the Biglerville-Heidersburg road.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, and state police rushed to the scene immediately.

They found the man's body half-wrapped around a five-inch willow-tree on a point of land jutting out into the stream. The body apparently had been washed to that place by high waters recently. Police said Possum creek runs near Delphey's residence which is about four miles from the spot the body was found.

Hardly Recognizable

The face of the body found today was so badly decomposed as to be hardly recognizable. State police photographers from Harrisburg are coming this afternoon to take photographs at the scene after which the body will be taken to Gettysburg for post-mortem examination at the order of the coroner.

The body was clothed in brown shoes and socks, brown trousers and a brown jacket, answering the description given by persons who saw Delphey last at his home on September 17.

The body was found about 200 yards north of the Possum creek bridge on the Biglerville-Heidersburg road about two and one-half miles east of Biglerville.

Until the post-mortem examination the cause of death may not be known.

TWO DRIVERS TO FACE MOTOR CODE CHARGES

Two drivers will be charged with violations of the state motor code as the result of state police investigations of mishaps which occurred on county highways Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The first collision occurred about 1:20 o'clock just east of Arendtsville on the Biglerville road when Pearl Snyder, Biglerville R. 1, drove onto the highway from a side road and collided with the side of a truck operated by Clyde E. Cooley, Aspers.

No one was injured in the mishap. The investigating officer said that he is charging the woman driver with failing to yield the right of way before Justice of the Peace Martin Walter, Butler township.

Two Cars Collide

Two cars collided at the northern edge of Bonneville just west of the sharp curve at 8:10 o'clock Wednesday evening. The machines were operated by Agnes May Eckenrode, Hanover, who was traveling toward Gettysburg, and Francis M. Chrimer, Gettysburg R. 5, who was traveling east.

State police said Chrimer was driving over the center line of the highway when his machine sideswiped Miss Eckenrode's machine. Mrs. Edward Eckenrode, Hanover, mother of Miss Eckenrode, suffered a bump on the head and shock but did not require medical attention.

Chrimer will be charged with a motor code violation before Justice of the Peace Leo Storm, Mt. Pleasant township.

Local AMVETS Will Meet Next Tuesday

A meeting of Gettysburg Post 26, AMVETS, will be held next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the American Legion home on Baltimore street.

The local post, which was recently organized, has been assigned the post number "26."

A delegate from the local group is expected to attend the initial convention of the Department of Pennsylvania, American Veterans of World War II, to be held Saturday and Sunday at Hotel Abraham Lincoln, Reading.

Granted Permission To Transport Persons

The Public Utility Commission Wednesday granted permission to Donald Petters, Gardners, to transport persons from points within a radius of 15 miles of Carlisle to the plant of the Knouse Corporation, Peach Glen.

The permission is for a four-month period, pending disposition of Petters' application, and excludes Carlisle and intermediate points between Carlisle and Peach Glen.

MAKE PLANS TO RAISE $21,230 FOR WAR FUND

The last campaign for funds by the National War Fund will open in Adams county Monday, October 15, for an intensive 10-day drive for $21,230.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, USO president for the county and campaign chairman for the final War Fund drive this year, met Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg with district chairmen for all sections of the county.

The district chairmen accepted individual quotas, arranged to get supplies for their staffs of captains and canvassers and outlined general campaign plans which include the establishment of headquarters in a room in the Teen-Canteen building on Baltimore street.

The county campaign will coincide with the national drive for $115,000,000 with Pennsylvania being asked to raise $9,700,000.

Important Drive

Answering questions from campaign leaders about the importance of the war fund drive this year even though hostilities have ended, Chairman Tilberg declared:

"Until the last man in uniform is home again, the program of the USO will necessarily have to be continued. In fact the demand will be heavier. On September 1 there were 11,000,000 men and women of our nation in uniform and even though they should be discharged at the rate of several hundred thousand each month, there is every indication that there will be as many men and women in uniform during the coming year as there were when the first War Fund campaign was launched early in the war."

He pointed out too the heavy burden placed on USO facilities by returning soldiers and by men remaining in the service with their leisure time greatly increased since the end of hostilities. "The tremendous job to be done by relief agencies in Europe and the Far East is bigger than in any previous year," he added.

Chairmen Present

District chairmen in attendance at the session Wednesday evening included Arnold Orner, who heads the drive in the northern section of the county; Clarence Wilson, Fairfield, and other western county communities; A. H. Jones, New Oxford, and most other eastern county communities; Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, McSherrystown, who will head the drive in McSherrystown and Irish-town; Ross Koons, York Springs, and Lester O. Johnson, Gettysburg chairman.

Others present were Dean Tilberg; (Please Turn to Page 5)

BIRCHER BALKS STRANGLING OF SMALL AIRPORT

Richard Bircher, owner-operator of the Gettysburg airport, named to a committee to protest proposed federal regulations of airports in the state, vigorously opposes "regulations that will strangle the small airport operator in Pennsylvania and stifle his business to such an extent that he will cease to exist."

Commenting on the aircraft operators' meeting in Harrisburg Tuesday Mr. Bircher said that the proposed federal regulations "would impose so many restrictions on the small operator that he would not be able to operate, and all for the benefit of the large airlines. It would limit our sphere of activity, impose regulations on us that in turn would increase the tax burden on taxpayers and eventually we small operators

Find Ashes Of Yank Fliers Executed By Japs In China

By RICHARD CUSHING

Shanghai, Sept. 27 (AP)—The ashes of three Doolittle fliers who were executed by Japanese were recovered today, the U. S. War Crimes commission disclosed, and several eyewitnesses told fresh stories of the shooting in an old Chinese cemetery at the edge of Shanghai October 15, 1942.

Seizure earlier of court martial records which doomed the three Tokyo-bombing fliers had afforded America proof that the infuriated Japanese military had singled out the trio of airmen for discriminatory treatment.

The Japanese government, in response to United States protests, had contended that airmen were handled like all other prisoners of war.

But the court martial papers showed the fliers, among the 80 who raided Tokyo and other Japanese cities April 18, 1942, under command of then Capt. James Doolittle, were tried on charges of violating "military regulations regarding aircraft crews."

It required only 30 minutes, with all proceedings in Japanese, to seal the fate of Lt. Dean Edward Hallmark, 27, Dallas, Texas; Lt. William Glover Farrow, 23, Darlington, S. C.; and Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, 20, Lebo, Kan.

The death which befell the three on October 15, 1942, also had been decreed for the other five. Their sentences were commuted to life imprisonment the day before the executions but one of the five, Lt. Robert J. Meder, 24, of Lakewood, Ohio, died December 1, 1943, in a Nanking prison camp after suffering from diseases due to poor care and malnutrition.

All eight were tortured in notorious Bridge House, Shanghai, in the days before the trial.

Marshal Zhukov Will Visit U. S.

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Truman has invited Marshal Gregori Zhukov of Soviet Russia to the United States and that Zhukov has accepted and will arrive October 4.

The White House said Zhukov, who represents Russia on the Allied Council governing Germany, will arrive by air in New York City October 4.

Arrangements for his visit are being handled by the War department. He will call on the President while here, but the date has not yet been fixed. No other details were announced.

Six From County Given Discharges

Adams countians discharged from the army at Indiantown Gap recently included Capt. Charles G. Hain, Cashtown; T/5 Charles C. Riley and T/5 John H. Palmer, both of Gettysburg; T/Sgt. Glenn W. Delp, Gardners R. 1; T/5 Charles W. Shuyler, Biglerville, and T/5 Thurman R. Slusser, Gardners R. 1.

First Lt. Edward S. Plank, 42 East Lincoln avenue, who recently arrived at Indiantown for redeployment, is spending a 45-day leave here.

MacArthur-Emperor Conference Details Are Not Disclosed

By MURLIN SPENCER and MORRIE LANDSBERG

Tokyo, Sept. 27 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito called on General MacArthur today, removed his top hat and bowed to the supreme Allied commander.

What they discussed in a 35-minute talk was not disclosed but the important thing, said one high officer, was the Emperor did the calling. Nothing like that has happened before in Japan's history.

(The British Broadcasting Corporation in a broadcast recorded in New York by NBC quoted its Tokyo Correspondent Douglas Willis as saying that it is "strongly believed that Emperor Hirohito expressed his will to abdicate," and that "the redrafting of the Japanese constitution (to permit abdication) already is taking place." There was no confirmation.)

Details Are Kept Secret

The Japanese central liaison office, to which all inquiries were referred, told the Associated Press today that Allied headquarters and the Japanese government "reached an agreement not to disclose" the topics discussed. The Japanese spokesman said that he personally knew what the conversation included, but that he could not reveal it without MacArthur's permission.

While the general and the Emperor sat by a glowing fire and talked Domei agency reported that four elements of the Sixth Army's 33rd Division had arrived in the Kobe area on Western Honshu to swell occupation troops there to 4,500.

Because of the length of the talk, it was assumed they discussed generally mutual problems connected with American occupation of what remains of Hirohito's once great empire.

Among possible subjects for discussion was that of abdication, which still is rumored possible—but without any confirmation whatsoever. Marquis Koichi Kido, keeper of the privy seal, who is the Emperor's principal adviser in these matters, told the Associated Press there is no prospect at present of abdication because Hirohito personally must carry out the Potsdam terms.

Emperor Uses Old Car

Hirohito and his Japanese interpreter were closeted in the state reception room in the residence of the embassy which MacArthur and his family have taken over.

The Emperor's somewhat old, dark automobile drove up to the main entrance carrying the imperial emblem on the front. The back curtain was drawn. Hirohito was sitting bolt upright in the seat. His grand chamberlain, Admiral Fujita, who previously met MacArthur to arrange the meetings, was sitting facing the Emperor.

An attendant jumped out of the car, opened the door and bowed. The chamberlain backed out of the car, keeping his face to the Emperor and bowed as Hirohito got out.

The Emperor found Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, MacArthur's aide, and Maj. Saubion Bower, an interpreter, awaiting them. Hirohito, in formal diplomatic clothes, took off his silk hat, bowed, and shook hands with Fellers, probably an unprecedented thing.

Doug Is Tieless; Wears No Medals

Still more unprecedented, however, the Emperor again extended his hand as Fellers introduced him to Bower.

Fellers ushered the Emperor ahead of him to the state reception room where, as he entered the door, Hirohito bowed in MacArthur's direction.

Hirohito found his host wearing army khaki and an open-throated shirt. The supreme Allied commander wore no tie and no medals.

The call was informal. A spokesman acknowledged that the meeting was "fraught with significance" but emphasized it was arranged at the request of the Emperor's representative, presumably at a recent visit of Fujita.

The two shook hands and MacArthur greeted him with "good morning," they posed briefly for a picture, then moved to a settee where they began to talk.

Precedent Set By Emperor

There was a quiet dignity about the preliminaries as though MacArthur was trying to make the visit as painless as possible for the Emperor, who for the first time in the history of the Japanese empire was calling upon a representative of a foreign country.

One officer who saw the Emperor close said he appeared to be "an intelligent person."

The Mikado's route along the embassy drive was through a cordon of guards commanded by 2nd Lt. Edward Schurr Royal Oak, Mich. These same guards—F troop of the Eight Regiment of the First Cavalry Division—were in the flyin column which first entered Manila when the Emperor's troop were setting themselves to destroy the city.

There was none of the fanfare or excitement one would expect at such an historic event.

Without warning, a five-car convoy arrived suddenly in the area of the American embassy, whipped up a hill to the gateway to the official residence, and disappeared into the wall surrounding the grounds.

Correspondents dashed up a hill after the convoy. American guards started to hustle them off. They had order not to allow anyone within two blocks of the scene of the precedent-shattering meeting.

Sgt. James C. Pickett, Dallas, Tex., sergeant of the guards, said general orders were effective at all times not to

DESCENT FROM THRONE RANKS AS BIG EVENT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Writer)

Emperor Hirohito's descent from his throne to present himself before Supreme Commander MacArthur—in effect an act of submission by a defeated head of state to his conqueror—ranks among the major events which are ushering in the new world era.

This unprecedented development may well serve to break the spell of imperial mysticism and omnipotence under which the Japanese have been ruled for 2,600 years by Mikados to whom they have attributed divinity. It may herald the advent of rule by the people.

Imagine what the disclosure of this meeting will mean to the millions who never have gazed directly upon their Emperor. We see him arrive in his automobile at the American embassy, immaculate in morning suit and silk hat. His dignified grand chamberlain backs out of the car, head lowered and face towards the Emperor, and bows the great personage out to the sidewalk.

Informal Doug

And then we see the Mikado, silk hat in hand, brought before MacArthur. The general is studiously garbed in ordinary field khaki. He even wears his shirt open at the throat, without a tie. And not one of his many medals is on him.

It's easy to believe that this may do much to shock medieval Japan out of its trance. Certainly it may be expected to spur the current talk of possible abdication by the Mikado, or at least his abandonment of temporal power to make way for the inauguration of a popular form of government. This needn't disturb his position as spiritual head—if the people want him.

Along with this dramatic turn, we get other indications of Allied progress in consolidating our victory over Germany and Japan. The simultaneous actions of Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower in tightening up their occupation controls provide significant answers to recent sharp criticism at home and abroad that the aggressor nations are being given too soft a peace.

The developments in both cases are aimed at speeding up attainment of the chief Allied war aims. These were to render the enemy utterly impotent militarily, and at the same time to destroy the militaristic mentality which, in the case of Germany, encompassed Hitlerism. The physical defeat has been achieved, but the more difficult moral reform cannot be carried out until the two peoples have been made to understand that their countries have been smashed.

8 Bank Employees To Attend School

Eight Adams county bank employees have enrolled for the fall and winter term of the school conducted by the York Chapter of the American Institute of Banking at York. Elmer W. Warren, Springs avenue, assistant trust officer at the First National bank here, is a member of the faculty. Classes began Tuesday.

Milo Diehl, Miss Etta King, Mrs. Helen Corbett and Mrs. Mildred Murray of the First National; J. Bruce MacLay, Fairfield; Dale Crum, Bendersville; Donald Sell, Littlestown National, and Robert Roberts, New Oxford, are already enrolled for the 28-week course. Classes are held for three hours each Tuesday.

Mr. Warren teaches a course known as Economics I; H. G. Ports, York, gives a course in negotiable instruments; H. B. Waltman, York, consumer credit; while a second year course in trusts will be given by a panel of instructors. There will be seminars on individual, estate and corporation taxes.

Thomas L. Ackerman Now At Pearl Harbor

Pearl Harbor, Sept. 27 (By Mail)—Thomas L. Ackerman, fireman, first class, 613 Main street, McSherrytown, has been serving with the 85th Naval Construction Battalion here, climaxing, with the war's end, a long period of duty that began in the Aleutians.

In cold and heat, this battalion of Seabees performed the strenuous, difficult work necessary to victory. It spent 17 months in the Aleutians, from there came to the South Pacific. When peace came, its men were preparing military equipment in the New Hebrides for shipment to areas nearer the fighting fronts.

WILL ENTER PARADE

The Cardinal and Shamrock Girl Scout troop members are asked to meet in the front of St. James Lutheran church Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock from where they will go to New Oxford to participate in the Victory parade. Members from Meade school planning to take part are asked to notify Ethel Liesmann and those from Lincoln school should notify Nancy Lightner.

Most of the recent service discharges recorded at the court house were of overseas veterans and all but one of the Purple Heart wearers in the group were ex-infantrymen.

Milton E. Harner, Littlestown R. 1, wounded ex-machinegunner; Paul R. Dugan, Aspers R. 1; Hugh H. Craig, Gilliland apartments, Carlisle street; Clark H. Wildasin, Hanover R. 4, who received a Purple Heart medal after being wounded on the Western Front; Bernard E. Smith, 629 Main street, McSherrytown, who was wounded March 24 in Europe; John R. Robert, Orrtanna; Stuart V. Berwager, Hanover; John W. Helsey, Gardners R. 1, wounded last April 14 in Europe; Lawrence P. Heider, McSherrytown; Charles M. Singley, 117 West High street; Howard W. Angell, 311 York street, wounded in Italy on May 13, 1944.

TWO ARE SENTENCED

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27 (AP)—Tony Brzezinski of Franklin was given six months in jail and George Tattenhorst, Jr., of Homewood, Ill., a year in prison in federal court yesterday on a charge of transporting a stolen car from Detroit to Oil City last July 15.

One-Third Of Meat Will Be Ration-Free; Starts Sunday

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—One-third of the increasing meat supply will be ration-free beginning Sunday.

The OPA formally announced today that from Sunday through October 27 no points will be required for lower grades of beef, veal and lamb.

Also ration-free will be hamburger, lamb and veal patties and all cheaper cuts of all grades of meat. These include such cuts as short ribs and brisket of beef, breast and flank of lamb and shank of veal.

Points are being eliminated, too, on all canned meats, sausage, frankfurters, luncheon varieties and all other products made from lower grades of meat. These grades are utility, canner and cutter beef, and utility and cull veal and lamb.

On Ration List

This will leave on the ration list at current point values all pork cuts, bacon and other cured meats, the choice cuts of beef, veal and lamb of top grades—such as steaks, roasts and chops—and butter, margarine and other fats and oils.

Points on canned fish are being trimmed two and three points a pound.

OPA said it was in agreement with the Agriculture Department that rationing of pork and the three top grades of beef, veal and lamb (AA, A and B) must be continued.

"Without rationing, most consumers in areas that do not produce these meats would find it difficult if not impossible to get their fair share," OPA said.

But there was this good news on increasing supply of meat: The Agriculture Department estimated that the average annual civilian rate in October will be from 147 to 150 pounds per capita. A few months ago the yearly rate was about 115 pounds. However, to meet full demand the rate would have to be close to 165 pounds, it was stated.

Seasonal Increase

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said the seasonal increase in marketing of range-fed cattle is the principal reason one-third of the meat supply can be made ration-free. These cattle produce the lower grades of beef.

According to the Agriculture Department, civilians during October will have total of 1,502,700,000 pounds of meat, as compared with 1,352,000,000 pounds this month. This is an increase of 11.15 per cent.

OPA said that supplies of butter, margarine, lard and cooking and salad oils have improved, but not enough to warrant a cut in point values. The agency noted, however, that because a number of meat cuts will be ration-free, housewives will have more points for fats and oils.

The usual monthly allotment of 50 red points will become valid next Monday. The new stamps, in ration book four, are R1, S1, T1, U1 and V1. Stamps V2, W2, X2, Y2 and Z2 expire Sunday.

Found By Daughter

Campbell was found slain August 5 in the secluded home where he lived alone four miles from here. The body was discovered by his socially-prominent daughter, Mrs. Robert Spencer van Cleve.

State police claimed both men made statements admitting they beat Campbell and fled in his car, but without knowing the former business man was dead.

The men entered pleas of guilty after first pleading innocent, and testimony was then taken by the court to determine the degree of guilt.

Campbell had fed the men when they were hitch-hiking past his home two days before the men returned on August 1, when, the state claimed, the killing occurred.

Defense attorney Elmer D. Loose told the court at a hearing Sept. 7 that the men entered the Campbell home "with no lethal weapon" and "they did not go into the premises contemplating a murder."

ADDRESS ROTARIANS

O. H. Benson, president of the Adams County Free Library association, and Dr. R. S. Saby of the Gettysburg college faculty, both members of the Gettysburg Rotary club, were speakers at the regular meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club Tuesday evening.

AT HOOD COLLEGE

Miss Doris Ann Gaines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gaines, 427 Baltimore street, has enrolled at Hood college, Frederick, where she is majoring in science. She was graduated earlier this year from Gettysburg high school.

FACES CODE CHARGES

Borough police have charged Edward Scheldorn, Waynesboro, with passing a stop sign at Middle and Baltimore street and driving too fast for conditions at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The informations were signed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27 (AP) — Fire today destroyed the historic 16-room Hawkins mansion in Swissvale. Five fire companies answered calls but could do little as the nearest water was 600 yards from the house. Three families were reported living in the dwelling.

Upper Communities

The Sunday school of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, will hold its annual Rally Day service Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock. Prof. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, supervising principal of the Gettysburg public schools, will be the guest speaker. Included on the program will be vocal selections by a quartet from Trinity-Bender's Reformed church, an organ solo by Miss Julia Yost and a reading by William Warren.

The Sunday school classes will assemble in the church auditorium.

Mrs. John H. Deatrick and Miss Myrtle Raffensperger, teachers of the Intermediate department of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school, Biglerville, entertained the members of the department Tuesday evening at the church at a farewell party in honor of the members who will be promoted next Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Walker and children, Louise and David, Millersville, will arrive this evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Walker, Flora Dale. Mrs. Walker's husband, Pfc. Walker, is now stationed on Okinawa.

Mrs. Joseph Stubbs, Quaker Valley, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, and by Mrs. William C. Tyson, Gettysburg, motored to Langhorn Wednesday. Mrs. Stubbs' son, Joseph who accompanied them, enrolled as a student at the Woods' school. Enroute home they visited Mrs. Stubbs' daughter, Miss Shirley Stubbs, a student at George school, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Beltz, Philadelphia.

TWO MEN ARE SENTENCED TO DIE IN CHAIR

Erie, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Robert W. Pepperman, 29, and John D. West, 27, both of Williamsport, were sentenced today to die in the electric chair for the killing of Joseph B. Campbell, 73-year-old retired industrialist.

The Commonwealth charged the men beat Campbell to death with a bedroom slipper at his home near here early in August.

The men wept as sentence was pronounced by Judge J. Orin Waite after he and Judge Elmer L. Evans completed the study of testimony given at a hearing three weeks ago to determine the degree of guilt. Pepperman and West had entered pleas of guilty, placing themselves on the mercy of the court. They claimed they intended nothing more than the stealing of Campbell's car.

In their opinion read today, the court held that the men were guilty of first degree murder.

The date of execution is to be set by the governor. Meantime, the defense may take an appeal. At the hearing early this month, Commonwealth attorneys asked the death penalty, while the defense countered that capital punishment is "the taking of another life by brute force again."

NEW OXFORD TO OBSERVE WAR'S END SATURDAY

New Oxford will celebrate the end of the war with a Victory parade on Saturday evening. At least nine musical organizations will appear in the line of march, together with veterans, school children, firemen, various organizations and floats.

The parade, which will be divided into four divisions, will form on the New Oxford public school grounds at 5:30 p. m. and is scheduled to move at 6 o'clock. The route will include the Berlin road to Carlisle street to Center Square to Lincolnway West to Old Mill road to West High street to Hanover street to Center Square to Lincolnway East to the Fleet-Wing service station. The parade will then countermarch to the square and go north on Carlisle street to the school grounds, where it will disband.

Parade Lineup

The lineup of the parade will be as follows: Division one — R. H. Smith, chief marshal; drum and bugle Corps of Harold H. Bair Post No. 14, American Legion, Hanover; veterans of all wars marching, disabled veterans and Gold Star mothers in cars; New Oxford high school band, school children and floats; Division two — Drum and bugle corps of Hanover Post No. 2506, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Hanover; Pennsylvania State Guard, Gettysburg; floats; Sons of Veterans drum corps; Junior Sons of Veterans; Sons of Veterans; York Springs high school band; American Red Cross, marching; Civilian Defense Corps, marching; Division three — Boy Scout drum and bugle corps, Gettysburg; Boy Scout troops of Adams county; Wolf Cubs, floats; East Berlin High School band; Girl Scouts and other organizations; Division four — Brodbeck band; visiting fire companies in alphabetical order. Also in the line of march will be the Waynesboro band and perhaps additional musical organizations.

Members of the fire police will handle traffic. No parking will be permitted in West High street to the Old Mill road. Cars will be parked on the Sons of Veterans grounds on South Peter street. Business places are planning to close during the parade. Following the parade, the New Oxford High school band will present a two-hour concert in the New Oxford square.

Final plans for the celebration will be made at a meeting of those in charge tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Says Germans Sent Dog To Attack Her

Lueneburg, Germany, Sept. 27 (AP)—Miss Hanna Rozenweag testified today that one of the 45 defendants in the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camp trials set a dog on her "which savagely attacked me, tore my clothes and left marks on my body which I bear to this day."

The witness, a 25-year-old Polish Jewess whose mistreatment is one of the specific war crimes mentioned in the formal indictment of 12 of the Oswiecim defendants, said Irma Grese set the dog on her when another of the defendants, Ilse Lothe, complained that Miss Rozenweag's work was not satisfactory.

Voids Applications Made Before Burial

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—Governor Martin is a stickler for promptness but there are exceptions.

The chief executive says he has scratched off all names of persons who applied for a $5,000-a-year vacancy on the state athletic commission before Commissioner Matty Bain of Uniontown—who died last week—was buried.

"It makes me mad that some folks are so greedy," he said.

Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the Adams county Red Cross chapter, is attending a two-day conference for executive secretaries which opened today at Reading. She was accompanied there by Miss Mabel Stone of the Hanover chapter.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Our town has heroes, too

Over at Thistle Ridge they're always boasting about their local heroes—ancestors in the Revolutionary War, congressmen, and an artist with pictures in the Metropolitan Museum.

Well, we've got our local heroes, too...

There was old Doc Turner, who fought for years against the intolerance and bigotry that kept children from being vaccinated in our county.

And Deacon Follensby, who fought for free pews in the churches; Jess Hackney, who campaigned for teaching honest history in schools; Wedd Towers, who fought the encroachment of Prohibition in our county and persuaded folks they wanted tolerance and moderation in place of a return to lawlessness.

You won't find monuments to these folks. But from where I sit, they're heroes in a cause that's pretty sacred in our town: the cause of freedom, tolerance, and human dignity.

FAVOR LOAN OF 5 BILLION TO GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—American officials working out plans to help Britain are said today to favor a loan of $5,000,000,000. It would be at a very low interest rate and without strings on where the money could be spent.

Whether a plan along this line finally is presented to Congress will depend on further Anglo-American negotiations and formal acceptance of the idea by the London and Washington governments.

Trade talks that have been underway here several weeks still are in the stage of exploring just what Britain's financial troubles are and exactly what help may be needed. Nevertheless, opinion among American negotiators is fairly well formed on the main points.

Long Reconversion

Thus, on the word of fully-informed authorities it is possible to report that the situation today stands as follows:

The essence of Britain's trouble is that she has to exist for the next three years or more while reconverting to profitable peacetime trade.

American officials accept the British contention that if financial aid can be obtained in this country it will be possible for the new era of trade to be developed along free, competitive lines. Otherwise the British empire will have to go in for a kind of economic isolationism in order to survive the crisis.

The Americans do not accept the British thesis that the aid must be practically a free grant of from $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000—the range the British are talking.

Cut Overseas Debt

Instead, the United States view is that the British must cut their overseas sterling debt of $16,000,000,000 by probably 40 or 50 per cent.

Americans contend such action can be justified because the loans were made by India, Egypt and other countries at a time when Britain was getting all-out Lend-Lease assistance from the United States.

With such a reduction, the British would be in a sounder financial position and also would be able to take on new obligations.

IMPROVEMENTS AT MONT ALTO

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—Governor Martin approved today improvements costing $974,084 at Mont Alto and Cresson Tuberculosis sanitariums as part of the commonwealth's $74,000,000 public works program.

Approval was announced by Dr. Harry W. Weest, Secretary of Health, who said funds for the work would come from a $10,325,000 appropriation to the department for construction of sanatoria and anti-stream pollution.

Proposed projects for the Harrisburg Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Berks county and the state hospital for crippled children at Elizabethtown have not yet been approved, he said.

The work at Mont Alto, Dr. Weest said, will cost $238,250 for an additional water supply, a ground lighting system and new laundry equipment.

At Cresson, $735,843 will be sent for the construction of a nurses home, construction of quarters for tuberculosis employees, additions to the power plant, improvement of the water works, improvement of the sewage treatment plant, construction of a new automatic refrigeration plant, construction of five cottages for staff members, new floor for main kitchen and rebuilding of sanitarium piggery.

Cancels Play To Prevent Trouble

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 27 (AP)—Answering Socialist Mayor Jasper McLevy's declaration that so far as the administration is concerned there is no official ban in this city on "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Comptroller Perry W. Rodman explained today that the show was cancelled to avoid trouble.

Rodman, managing director of Klein Memorial, a civic auditorium governed by the Bridgeport Library Board, banned the musical version of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel of slave days in the south, last Saturday. The show had been scheduled here for Sept. 28.

Said Rodman: "There had been definite threats of picketing made to me and members of the Library Board, and rather than have the risk of irresponsible persons doing damage to innocent women and children who purchased tickets, I decided to heed the pressure brought on me and cancelled the engagement."

BARKLEY WILL ASK SOLONS FOR FULL PAY BILL

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) is preparing to ask the Senate to approve the "full employment" bill on the ground it is only preliminary legislation.

The measure, undergoing its third day of debate, lays down a policy that all Americans able and wanting to work are entitled to an opportunity for useful remunerative, regular and full-time employment. It further provides for whatever volume of federal expenditure and investment is needed "to assure continuing full employment."

However, as the arguments grew more heated by the hour Barkley invited reporters to look at the final section of the bill, which emphasizes that goals of the legislation must be achieved by later laws.

Tone Down Spending

"That section," he said, "means that Congress will have to come along later and specifically authorize everything hoped for, hinted at or mentioned in the previous pages of the bill."

"This nullifies all those fantastic predictions the opposition says we are committing ourselves to."

The pending Senate business is an amendment proposed by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Radcliffe (D-Md.) to tone down the spending policy. Rather than the inclusive phrase "federal investment and expenditure," they urge that the Senate go no farther than to endorse a public works program consistent with other governmental needs, obligations and essential considerations of national policy.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) and others have expressed fear the present wording would put the provision of jobs ahead of all other governmental obligations, even national defense.

FIGHT SERVICE CONSOLIDATION

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—Plans for consolidation of the army and navy struck a snag today. Chairmen of both the House Naval and Military committees took a stand against it.

The view of Representatives May (D., Ky.) of the Military and Carl Vinson (D., Ga.) of the Naval committees means that Congress, or at least the House, won't even consider the subject for some time.

The only House group that has studied the proposal, the Postwar Military Policy committee, took no stand after lengthy hearings.

May and Vinson made their positions known in interviews as reports spread on Capitol Hill that President Truman may send a special message to Congress soon recommending a merger.

Numerous proposals along this line have been introduced. Most of them provide for creation of a single department of national defense, combining the army, the navy, the marine corps and the air forces—headed by a single cabinet officer.

Giant Banana Split For Returned Vet

Monessen, Pa., Sept. 26 (AP)—All the time he was in a hospital in England, recuperating from combat wounds in Europe, Sgt. Eddie Hughes kept writing home about how badly he wanted a real old-fashioned American banana split.

So he came home and got one. It was served to him on a meat platter and required an hour and a half to eat. The ingredients: ten bananas, two quarts of ice cream, a quart of fruit salad, marshmallow, chocolate syrup, pineapple, nuts, cherries and whipped cream.

FERRELL AND PERON QUELL "OPPOSITION"

By VAUGHAN BRYANT

Buenos Aires, Sept. 27 (AP)—Jails swallowed up leaders of every shade of opposition to Argentina's military government today while Argentine forces from the Atlantic to the Andes waited to see what further steps would be taken to carry out a state of siege.

Squads of federal police with long lists of wanted persons systematically covered this capital of 2,500,000 as the dragnet tightened here and elsewhere over the country.

The decree which deprives Argentines of their civil rights came unexpectedly as the climax to a period of mounting opposition to the military regime of President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell and Col. Juan Peron, vice president and strong man of Argentina. It followed by 24 hours the suppression of an uprising by the military garrison at Cordoba.

Similar action suspending constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, press and assembly was taken in 1941, but the siege was lifted last July, when Farrell promised to call a general election before the end of the year.

Farrell told the nation that the repeal of the decree "should be regarded as a transitory measure" brought about by "an unrestrained campaign of disorder and commotion" which had excited the nation. He said in a radio address that the state of siege would be lifted "when the directive groups of the nation have shown they know how to make full use of liberty" and reiterated that the elections would be held as promised.

ALL JEDBURGHES PROVED HEROES

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—All the Jedburghs were heroes. "Jedburgh" was the code designation for a secret international unit that parachuted into France on and after D-Day to train and lead resistance forces and integrate their actions with invading troops.

Eighty-two Americans with the Office of Strategic Services and a number of British, French, Dutch and Belgian officers, made up the heroic group. Existence of the Jedburghs was disclosed by the OSS only today in announcing award of the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart with three Oak Leaf clusters to Capt. Harvey A. Todd, of Decatur, Ill., one of the intrepid Americans.

The Jedburghs dropped ahead of advancing Allied armies in France, Belgium and Holland in teams of three. An indication of their success is contained in a letter of commendation by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower:

"In no previous war," he wrote, "have resistance forces been so closely harnessed to the main military effort."

The American "Jeds" included: Majors: John H. Bonsall, 44 McCulloch avenue, Norristown, Pa., killed in action 30 August 1944—DSC—posthumous.

Enlisted men: M. Sgt. Willard W. Beynon, 312 S. Hyde Park avenue, Scranton, Pa.; M. Sgt. Frank A. Hanson, 16 School lane, Ardmore, Pa.

54 Yankee Ships Are Enroute Home

Pearl Harbor, Sept. 27 (AP)—Fifty-four ships of the U. S. Third Fleet will be in U. S. Pacific coast ports for Navy Day celebrations on October 27, the navy announced.

Previously, the navy named 48 ships due in Atlantic coast ports on the same date.

Like those en route to the Atlantic coast, the west-coast ships will bring home veterans eligible for discharge.

The Third Fleet commander, Admiral Halsey, will come home with the fleet aboard his flagship, the battleship South Dakota, scheduled to dock at San Francisco.

Other battleships bound for the U. S. west coast are the Alabama, Wisconsin, Maryland, Texas, Nevada, Iowa, Colorado, Arkansas, Virginia, and Indiana. The homebound carriers are the Yorktown, Bonhomme Richard, Shangri La, Bunker Hill, Independence, Cowpens, Hornet, Ticonderoga and possibly another not yet designated.

Transport Stolen Cars; Plead Guilty

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27 (AP)—Albert Donatella of Midland, and Gerald T. McDole of Smiths Ferry, both in Beaver county, Pa., entered pleas of guilty in federal court yesterday to charges of transporting stolen vehicles in interstate commerce.

Donatella admitted transporting an automobile from East Liverpool, Ohio, to Midland last June 9, and was placed on four years' probation and assessed costs of $46.35. A jail sentence of eight months was suspended.

McDole was sentenced to nine months in jail and to pay costs of $48.25 after admitting transporting a car from East Liverpool, to Ohioville, in Beaver county.

Clarence Lafferty At Ft. Oglethorpe

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Sept. 27 —T. S. Clarence Lafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin J. Warner, 17 Mummasburg street, Gettysburg, currently is stationed at the Redistribution Station, where he will spend two weeks before reporting to his new assignment in the United States.

Corporal Lafferty was returned recently to the United States after having served 22 months in European Theatre of Operations as a truck driver in the Quartermaster Corps. His decorations include the European Theatre of Operations Ribbon and the Good Conduct Medal.

STATE SOLONS HEAR DEMANDS FROM CIO UNIT

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—Today is Pennsylvania Day in the CIO's drive for labor-endorsed legislation.

The Keystone state's 33 representatives and two senators were invited to a meeting in the Senate office building (11:15 EWT) to hear what Pennsylvania CIO unionists want done about "full employment," unemployment compensation and minimum wage bills now before Congress.

Pennsylvania was fourth in the state-by-state campaign. Delegations from New York, Maryland and New Jersey have had similar meetings with their Congressmen.

Three CIO regional directors were to lead the vanguard of Pennsylvania steelworkers, shipbuilders, clerks, electrical workers and other unionists. They were George Craig, of Philadelphia, Joseph Walsh, of Wilkes-Barre, and A. J. Federoff, of Pittsburgh.

Senators Attend

Senators Guffey and Myers, both Democrats, said they would be present. Many of the 15 Democratic and 18 Republican representatives also planned to attend.

First on the day's agenda was presentation of the phases of its legislative program the CIO now considers of top urgency including:

1. Passage of the so called Full Employment Bill committing the government to a premise that work should be provided for all persons seeking employment, and that when private enterprise cannot absorb them, public works programs be launched to take up the slack;

2. Increase of unemployment compensation benefits to a maximum of $25 a week for 26 weeks—a proposal modified by the Senate and now pigeon-holed in the House Ways and Means Committee;

3. Adoption of new "floors" on industrial wages of 65 cents an hour, instead of the present minimum of 40 cents.

Following discussion of these points, the delegation planned to call on the individual representatives.

TO DEACTIVATE U. S. TENTH ARMY

Tokyo, Sept. 27 (AP)—The War Department has ordered deactivation of the U. S. Tenth Army, conqueror of Okinawa, on the recommendation of General MacArthur. Allied headquarters said today.

The army has remained on duty in the Ryuku island chain, commanded by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell. He succeeded the late Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., killed in action near the close of the Okinawa battle.

Stilwell and Brig. Gen. Frank W. Merrill, leader of the famed Merrill's Marauders in the Burma Road campaign and former military attach in Tokyo, visited MacArthur today. Headquarters officers said both would return soon to the United States for assignments not yet announced.

The command formerly occupied by the Tenth Army will be passed to the Army Forces, Western Pacific. Regular army and low-point personnel of the Tenth will be assigned other duties in the Pacific.

The 43rd Division, which was active in the Philippines and now is part of the Eighth Army, is being reorganized, headquarters said, and with high point personnel from other organizations is scheduled to start home early in October. A total of 442 officers and 3,265 enlisted men are scheduled to return home.

ALTER GRADE CROSSINGS

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—The highways department was granted permission by the Public Utility commission today to alter two grade crossings of the Pennsylvania railroad over Neal street, New Castle. The changes are part of a highway improvement program.

TWO HEROINES OF SCIENCE TO ABANDON WORK

By FRANK CAREY

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—Two heroines of science, whose contributions to medical knowledge are world-famous, are retiring as researchers for the National Institute of Health.

They are: 1. Dr. Alice Evans, of Heath, Pa. The U. S. Public Health Service says her retirement was caused by recurrent attacks of undulant fever contracted 22 years ago during her laboratory work on the disease. She continued her researches in the malarial despite the attacks.

2. Dr. Ida Bengston, of Harvard, Neb., was stricken with endemic typhus fever while inoculating rats for study purposes. She later recovered fully.

Both scientists were cited by the Public Health Service as ones whose services "measured in the saving of human lives, are a monument to the vast strides being made in the fields of research."

Identified Fever

Ironically, Dr. Evans was a victim of the very disease which she herself first identified for the medical profession. She identified undulant, or Malta fever, in 1923.

Through persistent research, she succeeded in tracing the disease to blooded goats which had been imported to the United States through the Mediterranean. Her findings proved also that undulant fever, and the disease in cattle in the United States known as Bang's disease, are caused by identical germs.

Both diseases may be communicated to humans through the use of unpasteurized cow or goat milk.

Dr. Bengston prepared, during 1935-36, the standard for gas gangrene toxins and anti-toxins—a standard now used by the League of Nations Health Committee in Copenhagen.

She also contributed to the early studies of the cause and prevention of food poisoning in canned foods.

YANK KILLED IN INDO-CHINA

Saigon, Indo-China, Sept. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—Lt. Col. A. Peter Dewey of Washington, D. C., was killed and Capt. Joseph Coolidge of New Hampshire was seriously wounded by Anamese in disorders today.

The American officers, defending U. S. headquarters from a siege of three hours, killed at least eight natives.

British, French and Japanese also suffered casualties in a series of incidents. As a result of the continued disorders, Field Marshal Count Juichi Terauchi, the Japanese commander, was placed under virtual arrest.

Dewey, about 28, headed the American office of Strategic Services delegation here. His wife and daughter live in Washington. A Yale graduate and a former Chicago Daily News correspondent, he was the son of a former financial adviser to the Polish government.

Friends said that Coolidge, 28 (home town unstated), is a distant cousin of former President Coolidge, although seriously wounded, he was expected to survive.

ACCEPTS CALL

Samuel Frank, who will graduate from the Lutheran seminary in November, has accepted the call to become pastor of the Christ Lutheran church of Manchester and St. Paul's Lutheran church, York Haven. Rev. Frank delivered several trial sermons in both churches of the charge. He will be in charge of the worship service in both churches Sunday, October 7.

Leo T. Crowley Quits Federal Post

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Leo T. Crowley as foreign economic administrator and as member of the Board of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

The White House said Crowley also is giving up all of his other government connections next month. He leaves FEA October 15.

Crowley submitted his resignation September 24 and the President's acceptance went out last night. He holds nine government jobs.

FAVOR NAVY OF 1,079 VESSELS

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—The House Naval committee voted unanimously today in favor of a postwar Navy having a minimum of 1,079 fighting ships.

If approved for House action next week a resolution expressing "the sense of Congress" that the postwar Navy should have not less than the following:

Three large aircraft carriers (Midway type, approximately 45,000 tons). Twenty-four aircraft carriers (Essex type, approximately 27,000 tons). Ten light carriers (approximately 11,000 tons).

Seventy-nine escort carriers. Eighteen battleships.

Three large cruisers, 31 heavy cruisers, 48 light cruisers, 367 destroyers, 296 destroyer escorts, 200 submarines, and "sufficient aircraft, auxiliary vessels, mine vessels, patrol vessels, landing craft, district craft, and drydocks to support the above enumerated fleet."

The legislation has no binding effect other than to express the intention of Congress with respect to the future Navy.

Hungary Offers To Negotiate Treaty

Budapest, Sept. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—Premier Bela Miklos late today accepted a United States tender of recognition of his government in the form of an offer to negotiate a peace treaty, it was learned from a reliable source.

The American offer reportedly was made last Saturday, two days ahead of a recognition offer by the Soviet Union, in a note handed to Foreign Minister Janos Gyongyosi by Arthur Schonfeld, heading the U. S. diplomatic mission in Hungary.

Although the move was understood to have followed conferences on a high level, Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, Russian occupation chief here, apparently was not aware of it until Sunday. Miklos was to have had a cabinet meeting Monday to consider the American offer. It was learned, but Voroshilov asked him to postpone it until he could communicate with Moscow.

SOLDIER-FATHER TALKS
How good 'twill seem to hear a cry
And wake at night and wonder why;
To quit my bed and go to see
Just what the cause of it can be.

Oh, there were times to us it seemed
As if of horrors he had dreamed;
And then, if that the cause should be,
I'd bring him back to sleep with me.

Well, done with war, to me 'twill seem
Like waking from a fearful dream;
That out of peril's trenches deep
I've come back home to quiet sleep.

And when that little boy at night
Shall wake me with cries of fright,
I shall be glad his childish scream
Is but the product of a dream.

Today's Talk

KNOW WHAT YOU WANT
The winners in life's game are not always those who have the most brains, or the most advantages, but those who know what they want out of life and set themselves to get it. They are the winners.

There is nothing so valuable as a set purpose and a determination to follow it out to a successful conclusion. Every great enterprise has its inception in an idea. And often this one idea becomes the father of an endless number of ideas. Every useful invention sets in motion a continual line of effort toward its improvement. How crude are the inventions of yesterday as compared with those of today!

People who know what they want, ask no odds of anyone. They just go ahead, getting nearer and nearer to their goal. Of course all of us get tips and help along the way, but no one is benefited who doesn't know what he wants!

The reason why there are so many flounders in the world is that they do not know what they want, so no one is interested in helping them to something. Knowing what you want is the first step to any success in life. Henry Ford knew what he wanted when he worked out that first crude model of a gasoline engine. So did Edison, as he worked at an endless number of ideas that have since benefited all mankind.

Rex Beach was once a brick salesman but one day he wrote a short story, sent it to a publisher, and received a check in return. That encouraged him to try again, which he did. Then he dropped everything to devote himself to writing—for he decided that this was what he wanted most to do.

Many a person's life has been ruined because of the opposition of others to the one thing most desired in life. If you know what you want to do, let no one divert you from it! An expert bricklayer, who loves his work, and takes pride in it, is a far worthier human being than the lawyer who wishes that he were a portrait painter.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Simple Enjoyments."

State Rests In Trial Of Youth

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—The Commonwealth rested its case against Jeddie Howells, 15-year-old Wilkes-Barre youth charged with murder in the "crow-shooting" slaying of Willard Frey, 44, after a confession reportedly made by Howells was read.

Assistant District Attorney Mitchell Jenkins read the confession which, he said, Howells made to him two days after the slaying on August 13.

The defense is slated to present its case before the jury of five women and seven men today.

Jenkins said that Howells in his confession admitted he shot Frey while hunting birds. Howells was reported to have told Jenkins that Frey attempted to persuade him to discontinue shooting the birds.

BIG 15 OPENS
FINAL SEASON
FRIDAY NIGHT

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg Sept. 27 (AP)—The East-Central, or Big Fifteen Scholastic Football conference, starts its final campaign this week-end with Allentown the team ranked as favorite for the title.

John Harris of Harrisburg was awarded the 1944 championship despite a loss to Bethlehem, while Allentown went through the season unbeaten. The unusual situation of a team with one loss winning over an undefeated team was brought about by the complicated point system then in vogue.

The repercussions from this unexpected ending eventually resulted in breaking up the conference, although it does not officially end until the present season is completed. Last night eight teams that have withdrawn from the Big Fifteen met here to organize the Central Pennsylvania Football league.

This new league will not start until 1946 and tomorrow night the last Big Fifteen race gets under way with defending champion, John Harris, playing under the lights at Lebanon.

On Saturday three more games are listed with Shamokin at William Penn, Sunbury at Steelton, and Hazleton at Williamsport. The rest of the conference will be easy with final tune-up games.

Allentown is continuing its winning streak of last year and has rolled up 100 points in two games.

Bethlehem Strong
Bethlehem should be the club to cause Allentown most of its trouble. Coach Johnny Butler boasts of 16 men from last year's squad, including Bill Wash, a speedy back, and a couple of outstanding linemen.

John Harris must rely on a mixture of new men and some of last year's veterans, including Keith Cole, end, and Dick Bowers, who looms as one of the best backs of the conference.

Williamsport and Hazleton are likely to be in the thick of the fight, and their opening clash on Saturday may determine which team figures to be the principal contenders. The other clubs hardly seem strong enough to cause the powerful Canaries any trouble, although Easton may upset the dope. William Penn opened with Harrisburg Catholic last Friday and showed little power. Steelton is starting with virtually a brand new ball club.

Lebanon has already been beaten by Coatesville, Shamokin has held to a scoreless tie by Mt. Carmel Township, and Pottsville is the underdog against a rugged Lansford team this week-end.

VOTE TODAY ON CHURCH MERGER

Palmyra, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Election of officers for the coming year came before the 146th annual East Pennsylvania conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ today as the delegates prepared to close their sessions.

The conference also votes on a proposed merger of the United Brethren church with the Evangelical church, with the new church expected to have a membership of over 1,000,000.

There are 28 conferences of the church being held throughout the country, with 21 affirmative votes needed to approve of the merger. Bishop J. Balmer Showers, of Harrisburg, said yesterday that enough conferences had already approved of the merger to assure of it being placed before the church members for final vote next January.

Rev. Paul Price of Philadelphia, told the delegates yesterday that the Evangelical church had already approved of the merger and final action depended upon the United Brethren conferences.

"Double diplomatic talk must be replaced by frank, honest, dealings with other nations," the Rev. Dr. Peter Marshall of Washington, D. C., told the delegates.

This country needs "more of Christ and less of chemistry," said Dr. C. A. Lynch, president of Lebanon Valley college, in referring to the atomic bomb.

Paul L. Roy, Hotel Gettysburg annex, is spending a week's vacation with friends in Nutley, New Jersey.

Antonio E. de los Monteros has gone to Harvard University where he will take a post graduate course in economics.

Miss Ruth Reaser, Hanover street; Miss Bernice Strasbaugh, Broadway, and Miss Mary Swope, of Fairfield, left Sunday for Philadelphia, where they will attend Drexel Institute.

Claude Clutz, Troy, Kansas, arrived here Tuesday to attend the funeral of his father on Saturday afternoon.

Church Conference
To Assign Pastors

Elizabethtown, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Assignment of clergymen feature: closing sessions today of the 116th conference of the eldership of the Eastern district of the Church of God.

The delegates elected the Rev. A. M. Rhine of Mount Pleasant, as president. These eldership beneficial society officers were named:

The Rev. Joseph Miller, Saltville, president; the Rev. W. W. Weaver, Washington Boro, vice president; the Rev. Rhine, Mount Pleasant, secretary, and the Rev. H. E. Wagner, Sr., Altoona, treasurer.

SAYS EMPEROR
LOWERED SELF
TO VISIT DOUG

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

Tokyo, Sept. 27 (AP)—"Our emperor lowered himself today" by going to call on General MacArthur at the latter's residence, but "their meeting will deepen the understanding between occupation forces and the Japanese," a young university student told me today.

Sitting in the quiet of Hibiya park with his wife, a thin, lovely girl in sweater and slacks, the young pharmacist had thought about the question for several minutes before he replied.

Urged by an interpreter to "say anything you want to; do not be afraid," he decided that:

"It was not very good that the emperor should visit General MacArthur. General MacArthur should go to visit the emperor in the palace. But in Japan's present situation it cannot be helped. Because of the situation, there is no question of good or bad."

"Become Friends"
His wife smiled as she said, "This visit is a good thing; it will help the United States and Japan become friends."

Across the parade ground, a demobilized sailor in a green uniform suit twisted his handkerchief in his hands and said:

"Japanese have been taught since childhood that the emperor is the sole supreme being for them. They are not taught to respect the heads of other nations. Japanese are grateful to General MacArthur because he has permitted them to continue a peaceful life in spite of their defeat. But I am thinking that the meeting today lowered the prestige of our emperor."

He did not smile as he voiced his grave conclusion.

A middle-aged man wearing a blue suit and white straw hat came briskly up the walk, with a worn briefcase swinging at his side. He said he was from the Japanese Department of Justice.

"The emperor visited General MacArthur with the firm determination of converting Japan into a peace-loving country. The fact that he made a personal visit is exceptional, and this is a sorrowful fact to Japan. But in the present situation, we must swallow our tears and watch."

Strike Of Mine
Bosses Spreads

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27 (AP)—The strike by supervisory mine employees demanding recognition of their union spread today to 11 more mines, bringing the total number of idle miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia to 37,066.

The Solid Fuels Administration reported 57 mines shut down in the soft coal fields of Pennsylvania, and 25 in West Virginia.

Five of the mines closing today were in the Pittsburgh area, and six in West Virginia.

Those closing in western Pennsylvania were the Mather mine of the Mather Colliery company, 615 men; the Bethlehem 52 mine of the Industrial Collieries company, 871 men; the Indianola mine of Republic Steel corporation, 534 men; the Castle Shannon No. 8 mine of Castle Shannon Coal company, 600 men, and Ocean mine of Pittsburgh Coal company, 366 men.

LANCASTER'S
BUS, TROLLEY
STRIKE ENDS

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Lancaster residents rode to work today on regularly-operated buses and trolleys for the first time since September 1.

The Conestoga Transportation company resumed regular service at 4 a. m. less than five hours after striking employees voted 96-4 to accept a management-labor agreement ending a 26-day walkout.

The workers, members of Local 1241 Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL)—acted at a special meeting which ended shortly before midnight.

The agreement as approved by the employees was signed by John H. Wickersham, president of the company's board of trustees, and James H. Yoder, president of the local.

Approve Arbitration
Under the plan, the old contract remains in effect until a new one is approved which will be retroactive until September 26. Also, all employees on the payroll as of August 31 are to be taken back by the company.

All points in dispute are to be submitted to "voluntary arbitration" if they cannot be decided by negotiations, the agreement said.

"Everything going fine," was the comment of a Conestoga official shortly after service was resumed.

Long labor-management conferences preceded the signing of the agreement.

Several persons were arrested and others injured in picket flareups when the company started limited service last week. It ordered the employees to return to work and about 25 made an unsuccessful attempt to keep a few of the trolleys operating. The limited operations were halted after two days.

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Public Utility commission has granted permission to Donald Peters, of Gardners, to transport persons between Carlisle and Peach Glen, Adams county, for a period of four months.

Bricker May Seek Seat In Senate

Boston, Sept. 27 (AP)—Former Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, may be a candidate for one of Ohio's seats in the Senate in the November 1946 election.

The three-term Ohio chief executive, in Boston to attend the National Conclave of 33d Degree Scottish Rite Masons, said, "I might," when asked if he would seek the Senate seat vacated by the appointment of Harold H. Burton to the supreme court. He said he would make no decision until after the Ohio municipal elections this fall.

PRODUCE FIELD
HIT BY STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27 (AP)—A strike of approximately 450 produce handlers tied up vegetable and fruit shipments here today, leaving approximately 150 cars loaded with produce standing in railroad yards.

The walkout, by members of the AFL-Commission House Drivers and Produce Workers, Local 944, affected distribution of vegetables and fruits to the Pittsburgh area.

The stoppage was authorized by a vote two weeks ago. Union leaders were protesting against a no-strike clause in a new contract.

At the time the strike began more than 40 cars already had been emptied on loading platforms. About half of these were potatoes and onions, and the remainder perishable products. Railroad and platform workers unaffected by the walkout began reloading these for shipment to other cities, and union leaders permitted a group of strikers to assist them.

Small storekeepers and hucksters carried their own supplies from the wholesale places to their trucks.

Employers reported a stoppage lasting 5 days would shut off supplies completely.

WAIT RED WORD ABOUT BALKANS

London, Sept. 27 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and Soviet Russia planned a series of informal talks today amid unconfirmed reports that Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov was waiting word from Moscow which might clear the way toward a solution of the Balkan peace issue.

The fall council of Big Five foreign ministers skipped the regular morning conference, and in the afternoon was to take up again French proposals for internationalization of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

In the interim the foreign secretaries of the Big Three powers were reported reliably to be discussing renewed Soviet demands to exclude France and China from participating in the discussion of Balkan treaties.

There were indications that unless U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Molotov were convinced an absolute deadlock had been reached, they would keep the council in session until the obstacle to the Romanian, Bulgarian and Hungarian treaties was removed.

The fact that sessions would continue at least for a day or two more led informed observers here to believe that some sort of agreement on the problem was on the way.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LEGION HALL
SITE FOR SHOW
OCTOBER 5, 6

The Emmitsburg Community show sponsored jointly by the Emmitsburg Grange and the Women's club will be held Friday, October 5 and Saturday, October 6 in the American Legion hall. Everyone in the community is asked to take an interest in this second show and send exhibits to be judged. A list of the exhibits was published a few weeks ago but a duplicate may be obtained from the Community Fair Chairman Robert Pitez.

$200 will be given in prizes. First, second and third prize money will be awarded.

All exhibits must be brought to the Legion hall on Friday from 8 a. m. to 11 a. m., after which the hall will close for four hours of judging.

The show will open to the public from 4 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Friday and from 1 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday. All exhibits must be removed by their owners on Saturday night after 10:30 p. m.

Further committees decided upon at the Women's club meeting are: Registrars — Mrs. R. Zacharias, Mrs. R. Dougherty, Mrs. H. Neighbors.

Hostesses — Mrs. George Paxson, Mrs. Charles McNair, Mrs. Larry Orendorff, Mrs. A. L. Leary, Mrs. A. M. Wasilfsky, Mrs. Roy Wagerman, Mrs. J. Zacharias.

Committee for lunch table — Mrs. Maurice Zentz, Mrs. J. Hollinger, Mrs. C. Landers, Mrs. L. Sanders, Mrs. Charles Harner, Mrs. J. Wagerman.

These committees will be asked to be at the American Legion hall from 8 a. m. until 11 a. m. on Friday, October 5. The committees for arranging the exhibits are also asked to be there at that time.

Emmitsburg

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. McClellan quietly observed their 55th wedding anniversary on Monday, September 24. A dinner was given in their honor at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rosensteel. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. McClellan were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Kugler.

Mr. and Mrs. George Constantine and family, Washington, D. C., spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Charles Rosensteel.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rosensteel, Miss Irene Shorb and Mrs. Wales Rightmire recently spent a day in Baltimore.

Miss Louise Sebold is spending a few days in Washington, D. C., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Conlon.

Mrs. William Christie is visiting her daughter, Miss Julia Christie at St. Joseph's college. The Christies are from Trenton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Chrismer announce the birth of a son at Bel-air, Md., on September 22.

Margaret Wagerman, cadet nurse, has returned to the Church Home Infirmary to resume her studies after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagerman.

Colonel and Mrs. Harry Hull and daughter, Barbara, are now at their apartment in Emmitsburg. The couple will return to Baltimore next week. Colonel Hull has just returned from three years' duty with the 142nd General Hospital in Calcutta, India.

Makes Final Report
On Canning Center

Mrs. Harry Boyle, supervisor of the canning center, gave her final report today. The canning center closed on September 1 after operating since June 19. There were 26 canning days during which 90 patrons attended. Forty-eight of the 90 patrons were new to the center this year. Total number of hours spent at the center by trainees and observers were 2,201.

Vegetables and meats canned were 3,499 pints. Fruits numbered 1,348 cans, making a total of 4,847 pints.

ON VETS COMMISSION

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—Governor Martin placed James P. Murray, Forest City, newly elected state commander of the American Legion, on the State Veterans' Commission, succeeding William J. Rhoades, Rutledge, former Legion commander.

Women's Club Holds
First Fall Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Women's club was held in the Firemen's hall September 20. The president, Mrs. Harry Boyle, presided and called on the members to recite the American Creed in unison. Two musical numbers, "Now Thank We All Our God" and "You Can Smile," followed.

Mrs. Pryor substituted for the reading chairman, Mrs. George Eyster. She read several short poems on autumn and Frederick, old and new. Roll call followed and the judging of aprons. Mrs. B. P. Ogle and Mrs. Burton judged Mrs. Harry Boyle's apron the most practical. Thirteen aprons were modeled and several patterns displayed. Mrs. Boyle's apron will be mailed immediately for exhibit at the Frederick fair.

The director's report was read by Miss Louise Sebold and committees were formed for the community show.

Rev. Francis Stauble
New Church Pastor

The Rev. Francis Stauble, of Syracuse, N. Y., arrived last week to take up his new work as pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

After graduating from St. Vincent's seminary in Germantown, Father Stauble was sent to China in 1921. He was ordained there a year later and spent the next 20 years in the Chinese missions. He left China shortly before the Japs overran his province. On returning to the States he worked as Curate at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Philadelphia.

The former pastor, Rev. Francis Rogers, C.M., was ordained in Boston in 1919. He spent nine years as pastor at St. Joseph's church from 1921 to 1930. Following that he became chaplain at St. Joseph's college and after some time again took up the pastorate of St. Joseph's church in 1939.

Father Rogers has been missioned as chaplain to the Mercy hospital in Jackson, Mississippi. In addition to his duties as chaplain, Father Rogers will teach medical ethics to the nurses.

WAC Makes GI Loan
To Purchase Farm

Charles Gillelan of the American Legion announced today that former Pvt. Dorothy Chamberlin of the Women's Army Corps, who is the first WAC to take advantage of the G.I. loan to buy a farm near Emmitsburg, is a member of the Francis X. Elder Post No. 121. Private Chamberlin joined the post in July.

The WAC was also the first woman delegate to be sent by the post to the American Legion state convention held at the Lord Baltimore hotel, Baltimore, in August.

Abraham Lincoln was appointed postmaster at New Salem, Ill., in 1833.

PARADE TO BE STAGED NOV. 8

At a special meeting last Thursday the Francis X. Elder Post No. 121 of the American Legion made tentative plans to sponsor a parade jointly with the Lions club. The parade will be held at 5 p. m. on November 8 in honor of returning veterans, numbering approximately 20 out of 400 from this district. After the parade the Ladies auxiliary of the American Legion will give a supper.

All business places in the town, will be asked to have floats prepared. All town organizations, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Grange, the Women's club and the fire company will be asked to join in as well as the fire companies from Gettysburg, Taneytown, Waynesboro and Fairfield. Several bands will take part and the State Guard will be asked to participate.

The guest speakers of the occasion will be announced after meeting on October 4, when final preparations will be made.

The committee from the Legion at work now on the coming parade includes C. C. Combs, Everett Christmer, Leslie Fox, C. G. Frailey, William Smith, Charles Gillelan, C. C. Mackley, William Snyder and Allen Rosensteel.

2,200 JOBLESS
IN STATE WILL RESUME WORK

(By The Associated Press) Two of Pennsylvania's work stoppages ended today, with 2,200 men agreeing to return to their jobs.

New moves were made to settle disputes which kept another 73,000 workers idle.

The Pennsylvania Rubber Co. at Jeannette announced its 2,000 employees voted last night to end their 22-day-old walkout and resume production of auto tires. The company said it would arbitrate the dismissal of one worker, which led to the strike.

Employees of the Conestoga Transportation Co. at Lancaster voted 96-4 to accept an agreement worked out in management-labor conferences. The decision ended a 26-day disruption of bus and trolley service in the community and removed threat of a general "labor holiday" by 20,000 AFL and CIO workers in Lancaster county.

52 Mines Closed
In the soft coal fields of Western Pennsylvania, 52 mines were idle and 24,820 men were jobless in walkouts springing from the strike of a few hundred supervisory employees demanding recognition of the united, clerical, technical and supervisory employees of the mining industry, a UMWA affiliate.

Another 6,360 in 19 mines were idle for the same reason in nearby West Virginia, although three small mines there, employing 900 returned to work.

Coal authorities in both West Virginia and Pennsylvania agreed, however that the possibility of a general coal strike was in the offing. Another 6,360 West Virginia miners had voted to walk out today and closings in the Pennsylvania field were increasing daily.

Coal Output Slashed
Estimated production loss daily in the two states was between 125,000 and 150,000 tons.

A coal operators' spokesman said picketing caused several shutdowns in the Pittsburgh area, where 33 mines and 16,903 men were idle. At Youngstown, Ohio, the Young-town Sheet and Tube Company, said its coke ovens operations were cut 75 per cent because of coal and fuel oil shortages. The company announced closing of three blast fur-

COURT RULES FOR VETS ON COMING VOTE

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—Many Pennsylvania war veterans who are now or soon will be civilians may be able to bypass the September 15 deadline for registering to vote in the November 6 municipal elections—if other counties follow a Delaware county court ruling.

That court has held that basic rights of electors to choose their own governmental officials can not be overridden by legislation setting up residence requirements for registration.

Its opinion is being cited without any further comment by the state elections bureau to county election boards that are asking what they can do to permit voting by former servicemen who did not have an opportunity to register before September 15 and who, as civilians, can not use the military ballot for which registration is not required.

The law generally has been interpreted as disfranchising such veterans.

A case now is pending before the Fayette county court, with the county election board seeking modification of the registration requirements in the veterans' behalf.

In the meantime, however, Thom-nases and seven open hearths and said its Bessemer operations fluctuated between 50 and 75 per cent. Coal stockpiles were dwindling, especially those of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., whose four mines were the first closed in the walkout.

as F. Long, director of the state elections bureau, received a letter from the Delaware county court citing its opinion which compelled the elections board there to register a veteran, although he missed the registration deadline for the primary elections last June.

That opinion applied particularly in the case of Cyril McKeown, of Media, but, Judge Albert D. McDade told a reporter from his chambers in Media, the principles apply to any primary or general election.

Right To Vote

The basic consideration, he explained, is that the state constitution's guarantee of any qualified citizen's right to vote, overrides any special regulations that may be set up; that the election laws' residence requirements for registration are "directory and not mandatory."

The unanimous opinion of Judges McDade, Harold L. Ervin and Henry G. Sweney, held:

"It is therefore the duty of the courts and county board of elections to make it as convenient as possible for returning veterans to take their place in the community life by permitting them to register even to the day of the election."

Coast Guardsmen
Search For Body

Erie, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Coast Guardsmen planned to resume search today for the body of Howard Kidder, Girard railroad worker one of two men drowned early yesterday in Lake Erie at the mouth of Elk creek.

The body of the other victim, Samuel Hannah, about 40, of North Girard, was recovered three hours after a strong current from the creek capsize their boat.

Deputy Coroner Seeley Campman said he believed the two men were caught in a whirlpool and drowned immediately.

A third occupant of the small craft, Mrs. Beatrice Kidder, wife of one of the victims, saved herself by clinging to the boat until she reached shallow water.

Chapter 21

The drive over to Cobo's office was made in complete silence. Seth had a panic urge to try and reassure Suzy, but he knew she would resent questions and anything he could say would make the situation worse.

Only one thing made the coming interview seem less hazardous. Gardner was sitting behind Cobo's desk when they walked into the Chief's office a few minutes after leaving the hotel. With a wave of his hand, Cobo indicated two chairs evidently placed in anticipation of their arrival in front of the desk. Then, without preliminaries, Cobo turned to Suzy and said:

"Monday, at five in afternoon, you go to Cascade Sam's and buy a pistol, Miss Van Tyne?"

"What shopping I do in Key West does not concern any one—it seems to me," Suzy spoke quietly, but Seth caught the strained overtone in her voice. "This is not an official police investigation. Why should I answer that question?"

"It is official, Miss Van Tyne, answer please," Cobo rapped out the words sharply.

"Very well, then. I did buy a pistol that afternoon in the store you mentioned."

"Was it a .38 Army Colt?" Suzy glanced quickly at Gardner, who gave the slightest possible nod in reply, and then she said in a low voice:

"Yes."

"Is this your pistol?" The question cracked into the silence of the room, as Cobo opened the top drawer of his desk, and laid a gun in front of Suzy. No need to wait for her answer. Before she spoke, the three men watching her so intently knew that Cobo had traced the ownership of the weapon to Suzy. Only confirmation was needed now.

"Yes. That is the pistol I bought. But where did you get it? Some one stole it from my room Monday night."

"Stole it!" Cobo's voice showed his surprise. "Why you not report it sooner?"

"At first I was going to report it, but when Mr. Potter was killed—I was afraid."

"Why you afraid? You kill him?"

"A sharp cry rang out as Suzy half rose from her chair. "No—oh no! Of course I didn't kill him. My gun was stolen. I tell you. You'd be afraid to talk too. Everything going wrong at the hotel. A girl killed in my bedroom. I was afraid to talk. I never saw that gun again until this minute. I was afraid—" Suzy was very close to tears.

Gardner turned suddenly to Cobo. "Chief, may I interrupt a minute to ask Miss Van Tyne a question?"

"Yes, I wait."

"Miss Van Tyne was that why you bought this pistol in the first place, because you were afraid some harm might come to you?"

Suzy gave him a grateful look. "Yes, Mr. Gardner. I wanted to explain that to the Chief. That's the only reason I bought a pistol."

Her voice was more confident now. Seth knew Suzy was gaining better control of herself and the situation.

No one answered Suzy's question, and another heavy silence filled the stifling office before Cobo said abruptly:

"Miss Van Tyne, what time did your dance start Saturday evening?" For a moment Suzy looked puzzled. The question was so different from what she had expected. She hesitated, then said slowly: "Our dance was scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock."

"What time did it begin?" Pugnacious little Cobo! Nothing distracted him from the direct line of his questions.

"Ten minutes past 10," Cobo registered mild surprise, and more interest than he had shown up to this time.

"How you know that?"

"The orchestra leader told me Sunday. He had to play the overture to our dance over twice because we were late coming out."

"Thank you, Miss Van Tyne. Now I tell you why I called you in." Cobo was in a misshapen bullet beside the pistol lying in front of Suzy. He pointed to the weapon.

"That is the gun and that is the bullet that killed Henry Potter. The shot was fired about 23 inches from the body. The gun is a .38 Army Special Colt. It is the gun you bought Monday afternoon."

Seth began to feel that the tension in the room would snap and some thing drastic would happen if Cobo didn't stop that damn monotone of his. It was enough to make anyone hysterical.

"Didn't Potter have a gun in his hand when they found him?" Gardner asked more to bypass the bad moment than for any other reason.

"Yes. His gun a Smith and Wesson. We found powder pattern around wound very clear. Six flares—powder flares. Shows gun that killed him a Colt. A Smith and Wesson has only five flares." Cobo pushed back his chair and stood up.

"Muchas gracias. I think that is all I want this time from Miss Van Tyne. Do not leave hotel or this town, until I give permission. If you do, you'll be arrested."

"You will arrest me!" In spite of her efforts at self-control, Suzy showed how totally unprepared she was for this statement.

"What have I done?" "Your own gun that killed Potter. Until we identify killer—so must things stand."

"How horrible!" Suzy gasped.

"But you can't do this to me, chief. Why should I kill Mr. Potter? You found my father's plans in his hand. Why wouldn't I have taken them if I shot him? That

Upper Huntington

Upper Huntington.—The following officers have been elected for the coming year at the Idaville United Brethren church. Administrative board—Norman Hoffman, President; Archie Lauver, recording secretary; Charles R. Slaybaugh, treasurer; Harvey Heller and Edward Hoffman; superintendent of the Sunday school, Harvey Heller; pianist, Mrs. Josephine Laird; secretary, Ruby Barbour. The Yohn brothers of Dillsburg, are busy remodeling the church. Two windows and a recess on the platform and other improvements are being made.

The Rev. and Mrs. Earl Ensminger and daughter Sheila Faye of Huntington, Indiana, visited at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slaybaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beitman recently. The Ensmingers, who had spent a term as United Brethren missionaries in Africa and then were pastors on the Heidersburg circuit, expect to leave soon for the Mission field in Africa, as instructors in the seminary.

The Rev. and Mrs. Myrl T. Slaybaugh and daughter Arlene Lois, moved last week from New Goshen, Indiana, where the Rev. Mr. Slaybaugh had been pastor of the United Brethren church for three years to the Missal Station United Brethren church, near Streator, Ill.

The Rev. Mr. Slaybaugh was assigned pastor of the Missal Station at the Rock River U. B. conference, which was held at Adeline, Illinois, in August. The Rev. and Mrs. Slaybaugh were formerly from this section.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE

With American Army in Japan, (Delayed) (AP)—This may seem a strange place to bring it up, but did you ever hear of the brief military career of Mrs. Collins?

It was one of the most spectacular of any "commander" in the American Army but it didn't last long. I got the story from Wick Fowler of the Dallas News, who thinks Mrs. Collins—he will give her that pseudonym for courtesy—might have become another Stonewall Jackson if left alone.

Mrs. Collins first appeared on the military scene when an American regiment, sweeping through France, liberated a town in which she lived. Among the first of the cheering hundreds to step forward and express gratitude was this winsome lady.

She Joined the Army

But she didn't stop with that. She up and joined the army! No one knows just how it happened. Certainly no officer ever admitted extending her an invitation and nobody who was around at the time recalls that Mrs. Collins ever received any letter from President Roosevelt beginning "greetings."

She first made herself useful by acting as interpreter in dealings with the French populace. She was a very talented lady. She spoke excellent English, impeccable French and a guttural German that Hitler might have envied.

A feeling also grew up in the regiment that if the occasion arose, Mrs. Collins would also be able to bat the breeze in Zulu or Greek.

When the regiment took off in pursuit of the Germans, who tagged along but Mrs. Collins! And she set about at once making herself useful in many ways.

Picked Best Chateaus

First she took over the regimental mess. Its quality improved at once. And tired officers no longer had to eat off bare boards. Mrs. Collins fixed that. She wangled dishes, table clothes—even napkins—from someone wherever the regiment halted.

The evening meal came to have something of the quality of a night at the Waldorf. Staff officers amazedly found themselves shaving before coming to the table.

Regimental headquarters began to spruce up. With that reform completed Mrs. Collins moved on to new triumphs. She took over selection of command posts, scouting intrepidly forward with leading troops. There were no more muddy outbuildings for this regiment. Mrs. Collins always annexed the best chateaus—and she knew where to find them.

As a scout, Mrs. Collins soon had no peer in the entire regiment. She always picked command posts where good food, good wine and fine sleeping facilities were available.

A Jeep Was Her Undoing

By now, Mrs. Collins was rising rapidly. She began attending staff conferences and her advice on military matters seemed as sound as it did on the proper temperature to serve wine. She read all the intelligence reports. Then Mrs. Collins reached her zenith. She began taking a hand in planning operations.

Mrs. Collins was on her way to becoming France's second Joan of Arc. An order went out that all prisoners were to be interrogated by her. She began speeding about on special missions in the colonel's jeep. Frontline soldiers whistled and shouted catcalls at her the first few days but they soon stopped. They learned the lady in the colonel's jeep was willful as well as winsome. But the jeep proved her undoing. She was bouncing along, riding alone in the back seat as the regiment was moving up. The jeep passed the commanding general of the division, who was standing by the roadside. He stared flabbergasted at the sight of a civilian woman in an army jeep so close to the frontlines.

The General Stormed

"Who is that woman?" he shouted. "Why don't you know her, general," replied a private reverently. "That's Mrs. Collins."

The general checked and found that nobody knew who Mrs. Collins was, where she had come from or what was her background.

"Turn her over to the CIC," the general stormed.

The counter intelligence agents took Mrs. Collins into custody and no one knows what happened to her. But her military career was over. She never returned.

Soon the regiment was back sleeping in muddy outbuildings and munching cold canned food.

"If Mrs. Collins was here," the men sighed, "things would be different."

Hong Kong (AP)—The war has finished and now Britain is polishing up this crown jewel of the Orient, tarnished by the conflict.

Already British divers are at work clearing away the wreckage of Japanese ships sunk at the piers by Allied bombers. Hundreds of Chinese laborers are removing rubbish and the rusted remains of bomb-blasted buildings near the docks.

Hong Kong itself will soon be in working condition but it will be years before this gem colony regains its pre-war luster.

The Chinese settlement seems to have suffered much less than the areas in which the "foreign" colony lived.

Hotels Are Open

Precision bombing by the Allies limited most aerial damage to Japanese shipping and repair structures along the water front.

Few bombs or shells ever landed in the congested Chinese quarter and the main buildings in Victoria City are almost undamaged.

MYLES FIDLER IN TOKYO BAY FOR SURRENDER

F 1-c Myles Revere Fidler, son of Mrs. George Fidler, Biglerville R. 1, was aboard the USS DeHaven which anchored in Tokyo Bay for the official surrender ceremonies according to a letter just received by his mother. The ship anchored 1,000 yards from the Missouri on which the surrender documents were signed. Fidler's letter follows:

"Dear Mother:

"This is sort of an extra-special letter to give you the details of what is probably one of the most eventful days of our lives. How certain ships are chosen for special assignments is beyond my simple powers of comprehension, but we must have been sitting in the lap of the Gods at the right time, for we were picked to take an Admiral into Tokyo Bay to witness the official surrender ceremonies as a representative of our Task Group, and to be his flagship for the occasion. So, our two-star Rear Admiral's flag was broken out as our guest, Rear Admiral J. F. Shafroth came aboard.

Special Cache

"Before you read any further, take a look at the postmark on the envelope. Only ships actually in the bay itself are permitted to use this cache (get me!), so that puts us right in there again.

"To describe the affair chronologically: We were all broken out of our bunks about 0430 for breakfast this morning, in order to get everything in readiness to anchor in the bay by 0630. It was daylight very early, so we did some first-class sight-seeing on the way in. One of the scenes we will all remember is that of the big Yokosuka naval base with the Japanese battleship Nagato dominating the scene with her ugly pagoda mast, so typically Jap. She is lying there now, harmless, a ship with her 'teeth' pulled. Upon arrival in the bay we were ordered to drop our hook about one thousand yards off the port bow of the Missouri, the big battlewagon on which the surrender ceremonies actually took place. In this made-to-order position, we had a ringside seat to watch the various ships bringing the generals and admirals and high ranking officials from the different Allied Nations to witness and sign the document. The climax of the ceremony, when a great fleet of B-29's and carrier planes flew over the Missouri, was indeed a display that made us all proud of our armed forces. Imagine, 500 Superforts plus 600 assorted varieties of Navy planes, all sweeping across the sky in one sprawling group! It was a sight that we shall probably never see again.

15 Miles From Tokyo

"Geographically, the spot where we anchored is about six miles from the city of Yokohama, with Tokyo itself up the bay about 15 miles further. We are able to see many of the industrial buildings of the former city and even a few of Tokyo's landmarks are barely visible. Our one big regret is that Mount Fujiama, ever present on all post-cards of Japan, is hiding behind a heavy layer of clouds.

"When General MacArthur left the Missouri after the ceremony, the destroyer flying his flag passed only a couple of hundred yards from us. The General and his Staff officers were out on deck at the time so

Metropolitan Wins Safety Contest

The safety record made by Metropolitan Edison Company during the past year resulted in its winning first honors in the annual safety contest of the Pennsylvania Electric Association according to an announcement made at the Association's 38th annual meeting and industry conference in Philadelphia.

A trophy was awarded the company by George E. Whitwell, vice president of the Philadelphia Electric Company and President of the Association. It was received on behalf of the company by W. H. Doran, vice president, W. L. Mann, local division manager of the company, whose group of employees played an important part in winning the contest by working safely during the year, was present to witness the presentation.

The competition was entered by 17 member companies of the Association. It is the fourth time in the past seven years that Metropolitan Edison company has won first honors in the safety contest.

we had a good long-distance look at him too.

"I must close now and drop it in the mailbox pronto. Our Admiral will be returning soon and we will be getting underway shortly to return to our own Task Group.

"By the way, today established an endurance record for our ship so far. This being our 63rd straight day underway at sea. A long time steaming in any man's language."

Wealth Too Often Wasted

The mildly pungent smell of burning leaves is a universal reminder of autumn. From farm and village and city it heralds the end of another harvest season and presages winter's certain approach. Seldom does any person watch thin spirals of pale smoke from burning leaves rise on the cool air of an autumn evening without a nostalgic hint of other cherished scenes and far-off events. But the picture is not an admirable one. In reality it depicts an unpardonable waste. Actually every citizen should think of this seasonal aroma as an admission of profligacy, a needless destruction of priceless materials which Nature gives to man for his greater comforts and progress.

All soils capable of producing life owe their capacity to decayed vegetation. Without organic matter there could be no soil, therefore, no plants. Decayed vegetation gives life-sustaining powers to sand and clay alike. It enables soils to retain moisture in dry weather; it promotes better drainage in wet periods. Without it no beneficial bacterial could function. It is, in fact, Nature's chief raw material from which she works her magic in the mysterious laboratory we call soil. All life depends on it. It should not be destroyed.

When leaves and other dead or dying vegetation are considered in this light, the smell of burning leaves loses much of its sentimental attachments and becomes a stench for which citizens may well be ashamed.

But how can such "waste" materials be utilized to enrich lawn, garden and field soil?

Every person who grows plants—flower, vegetable, fruit or major field crop—should practice the profitable compost habit. Here is a simple conservation measure which returns profits far beyond the small amount of time and labor involved. Compost is Nature's method of rebuilding tired and worn soils. It is the best known substitute for scarce livestock manures.

In an out-of-the-way nook locate a cleared-off space to pile all leaves, vines, stalks, grass clippings and other waste vegetation known to be free from plant diseases. First make a thick layer of vegetation, then cover it with fertile loam from the garden or fence row. Alternate these layers as more vegetation becomes available. Always leave an indentation in the top of the heap, formed by the soil coating, to catch rain or permit the application of a few pailfuls of water every day or two. If vegetation and soil are kept moist, decay will be more rapid.

Of course, poultry and other livestock manure may be added, along with finely cut straw, fodder and other wastes. But it should be remembered that compost is acid in its composition, hence if it is to be used to improve soil for alkaline-loving plants, a few handfulls of lime should be added every two or three layers. But when intended for blueberries, rhododendrons, azaleas and mountain laurel and other acid-seeking plants, compost should remain acid by withholding lime.

A section of woven wire encircling the heap and fastened to stakes is useful to prevent loose dry material blowing away.

When the inside portion of the heap is partly decayed, turn the pile inside-out to promote uniform decay. It is often wise to keep two or three heaps in process of decomposition so that a liberal supply of fully rotted compost is at hand when needed to repair shallow or hard soils.

There is no ancient geographical term which covered all of the area now known as Palestine.

NUMBER OF IDLE NEAR 2 MILLION MARK IN NATION

(By The Associated Press)

Tension mounted over the nation's spreading labor strife today as the army of idle workers over labor disputes skyrocketed to near the two million mark.

The over-all labor picture was the worst in months. The strike list, below the 100,000 mark most of the year preceding V-J day, bulged as hundreds of thousands of workers were forced off their jobs by disputes, some of them fresh outbreaks.

A quick survey along the troubled labor front showed:

More than 1,850,000 workers off their jobs, some 370,000 idle by strikes, the others hit indirectly by the stoppages. An apparent deadlock appeared in the Chicago conference of oil industry and CIO union leaders with federal conciliators amidst threats of a nation-wide strike of oil workers which would add 250,000 more to the strike lines. Some 35,000 workers are on strike in seven states, demanding a 30 per cent wage increase.

New York Paralyzed

For the fourth day New York city struggled in the grip of a single strike which paralyzed business and industrial activity at an estimated loss of millions of dollars in trade and wages, and inconvenienced hundreds of thousands. The strike by about 15,000 APL elevator operators and building service employees threatened to spread.

Across the country in the Pacific northwest where more than 60,000 AFL lumber workers are striking, a CIO union continued policy meetings but did not issue a strike call to its 40,000 workers.

Additional coal miners left their jobs in West Virginia and Pennsylvania bringing the total miners idle in the two states to more than 35,000. The strike-idle in Pennsylvania alone mounted to around 75,000, including 33,500 at four Westinghouse Electric company plants. Fifty-eight bituminous pits were closed.

Elsewhere across the country in metropolitan areas and in smaller communities, labor issues held the attention of union and management.

Detroit Hard Hit

In Detroit, plagued for months by strikes and shutdowns and currently having some 90,000 idle, CIO-United Automobile Workers representatives and Chrysler corporation spokesmen made no comment as they recessed their conference on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase for the company's 80,000 workers.

One dispute in Detroit ended, 3-100 Murray corporation workers

Waive Hearing For Blackmailing

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 27 (AP)—Two men charged with blackmailing a resident of nearby Republic waived hearing today before Alderman George B. Smith and were released on bond awaiting action of the December grand jury.

The defendants are James Mosier of Butler R. D., a former agent of the state Liquor Control Board enforcement division, and Harold E. Yauger, of Uniontown.

Pete Tylishewski of Republic declared the two men accused him of making illegal liquor sales and demanded money. He said he gave them $140, the last $100 of it in bills the state police had marked. Mosier and Yauger were arrested by state police September 7.

going back to work after being idle for more than two weeks. The majority of the idle in the Detroit area were from automotive plants. CIO-UAW officials renewed efforts to end the 35-day strike at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company, a walkout which forced the shutdown of the Ford Motor company plants, idling more than 50,000.

There were 15 separate strikes in Chicago. None, however, involved large groups of workers. About 7,000 were off their jobs slowing production of civilian goods.

There were no indications of an immediate settlement of the strike in New York city, which topped the country's other disputes insofar as affecting the largest number of persons. The city's billion dollar fur and garment industry was virtually closed down as the hundreds of thousands of workers refused to cross picket lines or climb long flights of steps to skyscraper lofts.

Costly Strikes

The strike, stemming from a wage-hour dispute, has cost the garment industry $15,000,000 in winter orders and $3,500,000 in wages, said an industry spokesman.

After two day and night meetings, there was no indication of an agreement at the oil conference in Chicago. The CIO Oil Workers International union yesterday announced that its executive council had authorized a nationwide strike, provided the conciliation meetings fail to reach an agreement. Strike action was automatically withheld as

SAILOR CITES EXPERIENCES IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Seaman First Class Bernard L. Ditzler, serving aboard the destroyer escort USS Crosley in the Pacific, related the following incidents in a letter to his wife who resides in Bendersville:

"When we left the state we went to Pearl Harbor. Instead of picking up marines as we thought we were going to do, we took on demolition teams.

"These demolition teams were scheduled to go in ahead of an invasion force. We would take them about 3,000 yards from shore, they would pile into boats and start for the beach. Then they would get out and swim under water and blow up mines to clear the way for our ships to come in. Some of those guys would swim from two to three miles. Sometimes we could hear the Japs talking on the beach.

Get Suicide Planes

"One time we got two suicide planes, one of them first hitting the fantail of our ship. A number of others hit the water right beside us.

panel, said he urged the over night recess so the principals would have more time "to think over the situation and realize its seriousness."

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach earlier had said the conference "must not be permitted to fail."

Throughout the nation curtailed production in a varied line of business and industry, including shipyards and steel mills.

"At one time we did not leave our guns for 30 days and nights as those Japs just kept coming over all the time.

"One night we were called out to rescue a crew of a destroyer escort which had been hit. It was burning and fellows were lying dead on the deck and others were floating around in the water. It was a sight that I'll never forget and that is only one of the many things that I've been witnessing.

In Okinawa Invasion

"Our ship took part in the invasion of Okinawa and we were also in the Philippines under aerial attack.

"We left Okinawa with a convoy of 30,000, blowing up about 50 mines. We went to Jinsen, which is in Korea. We left there on September 9 and suppose we'll be heading for Okinawa again . . . for what, I'm not certain.

"They call us the 'Front Line Crosleys' and believe me we were all lucky to come through without a scratch. My happiest day will be when we start for the states. Hope that's soon."

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

struction is the modern Shanghai and Hong Kong bank building, a tall stone structure topped by an impressive pyramid. It also houses the American consulate.

Hong Kong's three largest hotels, the Gloucester, Hong Kong and Peninsula, are open and crowded with former refugees and military personnel.

Flood of Yen
Commercial life is slowly reviving. The British fleet has brought in hundreds of tons of rice, and is putting as many coolies to work as possible. Coolies suffered badly under the Japanese military masters, who provided them neither with food nor ways of earning food.

Hong Kong citizens say that because of the Allied blockade, no Japanese ship entered the harbor for the last six months before the surrender. It was a losing investment for Emperor Hirohito.

About the only signs of the late occupation is the flood of Japanese military yen, the rebuilt government house and the big, ugly stone Japanese war memorial at the top of the mountain overlooking the harbor. The memorial was built with the forced labor of foreign internees.

But something, perhaps final, has happened to the old way of life in Hong Kong as it was lived for decades by British, American, Indian and Portuguese business adventurers who found fortunes in tapping the rice and Chinese markets here.

Coolie labor was cheap and with their new wealth, those trade nabobs built fine, imposing homes on the "peak" where for a century no sallow-skinned Oriental was allowed to dwell.

CARDS CLAIM THEY POSSESS BEST INFIELD

By GAYLE TALBOT
Detroit, Sept. 27 (AP) — Of the four clubs which still retain at least a rooting interest in the approaching World Series, the St. Louis Cardinals are blessed with the finest all-around infield, the Detroit Tigers with the worst.

The Cardinals have the same bang-up quartet which sparked them to the world championship a year ago, featuring the incomparable Marty Marion at shortstop, Whitey Kurowski at third, Emil Verban on second and Ray Sanders on first round out the best inner works in the game today.

Chicago Cubs fans might like to argue the point.
In Phil Cavarretta, their first baseman, they have the National League's leading hitter, with a lofty average of .357. Also, they have Stan Hack on third hitting .324, and Don Johnson on second whaling the apple at .303.

Shortstop Weakness
That is a lot of hitting, and it

walls topped with sharp glass fragments to discourage intruders. Life was easy and soft behind those walls. There were servants for every wish.

That pattern of life has been broken. Most of the mansions are now ruined shells. Only a few were destroyed by bombs or artillery.

After the occupants fled or were interned, the mansions were subjected to two waves of looters, first the Japanese conquerors and then the poverty-stricken Chinese.

Death has broken up some families. Many businesses have vanished. The people of "the peak" are free, but many will never know the lush times of yesterday again.

easily outshines the Cardinal averages of Kurowski .319, Sanders and Verban each .277, and Marion .273. But it comes a long way from telling the true story, because the Cubs have a glaring weakness at shortstop, where Lennie Merullo is hitting a meek .231 and making too many errors.

Not only do Marion and Kurowski form the game's greatest defensive bulwark on the left side of the Card infield, but Kurowski has whanged 21 homers and driven in 96 scores, more than any other infielder among the contenders, including Cavarretta.

The Tigers, to put it mercifully, have strictly a wartime infield. It is to be doubted that a more ordinary infield has ever represented the American League in the big play-off.

Probably equal credit is due Eddie Mayo, the team's hustling, ever-scrambling second-baseman and leading batter among the Tiger full-season regulars with a .290 average.

Well, besides Mayo there is the veteran Rudy York on first, hitting .269; Skeeter Webb on short pounding the pellet at .192, and Jimmy Outlaw on third busting the apple at .269. Joe Hoover, who sometimes spells Webb at short, is hitting a lousy .257.

Has Fielding Edge
Bobby Maier, who started the season at the hot corner, was displaced by Outlaw when Maier's fielding fell below par. The two bat along at about the same pace but Outlaw's fielding edge makes him an almost certain choice to start for the Tigers if they make the series.

CAPTURE ESCAPED POW

Harrisburg, Sept. 27 (AP)—Two German prisoners of war were free for four hours Tuesday, only to be caught by the state police, authorities at the Indiantown Gap military reservation reported. They allegedly tried to rob a gas station at McConnellsburg, and were picked up by the state police at St. Thomas in Fulton county.

infield representation if it should yet sneak into the series is debatable. At least, the Senators have a much speedier crew in Joe Kuhel at first, Glenn Myatt on second, Gil Torres on short and Cecil Travis on third.

Myatt, with 31 stolen bases and a sticking average of .284, is a constant scoring threat. Kuhel, hitting .285, has knocked in 72 runs. Torres is a weak hitter, and Travis has not yet recovered the form that made him one of the American League's top stars before he entered the service.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers
This Kind of Laxative Help Often
Needed When Lower Sluggishness
Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 25 feet or more of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion often slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

★ That the cost of medical care has risen, no one can deny. But the rise has not been out of proportion to the general advance in the cost of living. At the same time the quality of medical service has been immeasurably improved.

Consider that today your physician has invested from eight to ten years and about ten thousand dollars in his education alone. He has no chance to earn until he is twenty-six or twenty-seven years old. He must have an office in a good neighborhood, good equipment, a car, good clothes.

Pharmacy, too, has stepped up its standards. Almost every state now requires four years of college and a year or two of practice before registration. All this adds up to better medical service for you.
